RULES and RECOMMENDATIONS:

For the safety and enjoyment of you and your dog we ask that you follow the below rules and recommendations. Please contact your instructor if you have any questions or concerns.

1. Don't feed your dog for a few hours before coming to class. We want to minimize the risk that your dog gets carsick or has an "accident" on the training floor. We also want them to be interested in your motivational treats.
2. Females in heat may not attend agility classes. A refund will be given for the unused classes. You may continue to come without her at no cost.
3. Trainers: While we recommend that one family member be the primary trainer during the classes, other family members should participate in home training as is appropriate to their age and ability. Please decide who the primary trainer will be before the first night of class.
4. Older children are welcome as long as they are quiet and remain properly seated during the class. Please do not allow them to touch or pet another dog. Disruptive children will be asked to leave so others can train safely.
5. If your dog "makes a boo boo" on our training floor we will gladly provide you with the necessary equipment to clean up. (We'll even hold your puppy while you use the "equipment")
6. Absolutely no abuse will be tolerated. The instructor will judge what constitutes abusive behavior. We use only positive methods. No choke leads of any kind or electric collars allowed in agility classes.
7. Make sure you keep your dog on a short leash when coming in or out of the training area or building. Do NOT let your dog sniff other dogs as this may lead to a fight.
8. We reserve the right to excuse any dog we feel pose a threat to other dogs or people in the class. The safety of our dogs and our people is paramount. We will try to make accommodations where appropriate but will not risk our other participants.
9. Refunds will not normally be given except for hardship or if the instructor excuses you from the class during the first week of the class. Any costs incurred such as the purchase of a leash will be deducted from the refunded fee.
10. And most importantly HAVE FUN!
